

Motivating Teaching in Higher Education with Technology (Paperback)

By Jay R Wilson Ph D, Edwin G Ralph Ph D

New Forums Press, United States, 2014. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .The authros created this manual particularly for beginning instructors at the post-secondary level who have never had formal teacher training. They not only present the essentials of effective instruction that incorporates technology, but in doing so, review key principles and practices that have been shown to enhance students motivation to learn. The manual is a distillation of core information derived from both the authors own professional experience and the body of literature on teaching effectiveness, learning motivation, and the infusion of technology in post-secondary settings. They draw on their respective educational and research backgrounds that range from the elementary through to the college and university levels. The Contents In Chapter 1 the authors answer the question: What are the best principles/practices of effective teaching/learning and learner motivation that are applicable to undergraduate education? They provide key definitions, explain foundational assumptions, and present a conceptual framework for the book. In Chapter 2 the authors describe a key component undergirding all motivational instruction: the establishment and maintenance of a positive and productive teaching/learning climate. They also analyze the...

DOWNLOAD PDF

READ ONLINE

[4.39 MB]

Reviews

A fresh e-book with a brand new perspective. This is certainly for anyone who statte that there had not been a really worth reading. I am just happy to explain how this is the very best publication i have go through in my individual lifestyle and may be he best pdf for ever.

-- Margarett Roob

The very best publication i possibly study. This is certainly for anyone who statte there was not a worth looking at. I am just very happy to tell you that this is basically the best pdf i actually have study inside my individual life and could be he very best pdf for possibly.

-- Darlene Blick